Justification:

The Adult Community Services (formerly the Division of Adult Community Corrections though more commonly referred to as Probation and Parole) was established to provide community based supervision and related services to convicted offenders sentenced to probation or parole. The Division's primary role is to motivate a change in the probationer's behavior in order to lessen the likelihood of the probationer to re-offend. The enhancement of public safety is achieved through the reduction of victimization. Over the years the role of the probation officer has changed dramatically. Thus while monitoring and supervision are still important activities performed by probation officers they are also actively involved in risk and needs assessment, interventions, case management, treatment and program referrals, etc. Traditional duties such as pardons and commutation investigations for the Governor's office, pre-sentence investigations for the courts, and post-sentence, pre-parole and other investigations for the state's correctional institutions remain a part of their assignment. In addition, activities such as sex offender registration, restitution/fine collection, DNA and substance abuse testing, data collection, community notification and supervision of adult probationers under the interstate compact are also some of the newer duties that have had to be assumed by probation officers as new laws and court cases impact their duties and responsibilities. The demands on probation officers continue to escalate and therefore the need for ongoing training has never been greater in the history of this Division. The Division of Adult Community Services is dedicated to balancing the needs of public safety, victim and community restoration, offender accountability and using effective approaches to reduce re-offending and enhance effective reintegration into communities. Under community supervision, offenders receive services that include monitoring through surveillance and personal and collateral contacts based on risk of re-offending and treatment intervention based on needs assessments.

Justification:

The Charleston Correctional Facility was established to provide public safety through effective security operations and programming aimed at reducing the likelihood that they will re-offend when in the community. All prisoners housed at Charleston Correctional Facility are classified as minimum or community based security. The prisoners participate in education, treatment and vocational programs in addition to industries programs and a unique work release program. The Charleston Correctional Facility currently houses approximately 145 male prisoners. Prisoners are received from higher security level institutions, such as the Maine State Prison in Warren, the Maine Correctional Center in Windham and the Downeast Correctional Facility in Bucks Harbor. A comprehensive classification process reviews the prisoner's need for rehabilitative services such as education, vocation, psychological, and substance abuse. An educational learning center/library is located on facility grounds. Instruction is offered in GED preparation and testing, Adult Basic Education, NOVA Net college courses and basic computer skills. Substance abuse services are provided at an intensive level as well as some psycho-educational classes. The facility has started a cognitive skills based program called Thinking for a Change which teaches prisoners new skills to deal with daily challenges. Parenting skills, life skills, and employment skills training are also available through collaboration with other community agencies. Vocational programs and industries programs are provided in wood harvesting and small saw mill operation. Finished lumber is sold to other Correctional and State Agencies in addition to being utilized in our industry program to manufacture fine furniture, woodcrafts, prefab shelters, and construction products. This program is accomplished through a cooperative agreement with the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. The cooperative agreement allows the Charleston Correctional Facility wood-harvesting program to provide land management services to the 7,000+ acre Bud Leavitt Wildlife Management Area that abuts the facility property. The wood-harvesting program produces several hundred cords of fuel wood and slab wood for the facility's boiler plant to supplement the use of oil in order to provide heat and hot water for the entire facility. This has saved the facility considerable funds annually by reducing fuel oil costs. In addition, the industry program produced thousands of board feet lumber. The Charleston Correctional Facility's total progressive corrections program has a very strong public restitution element providing public restitution to communities, non profit agencies and State Agencies to include the Maine Department of Transportation. Prisoners are trained and ready to be utilized to fight forest fires and prisoners that have earned that privilege are offered an opportunity to enter the Facility's unique work release program. Prisoners in the program are required to contribute to their living expenses, provide family support, pay victim restitution, pay unpaid fines and save money to utilize upon their release. The Charleston Correctional Facility has evolved into a dynamic program offering real-world work experience, coupled with evidence-based programming and transitional services. Our facility has consistently been a leader in all areas of minimum/community security corrections. Prisoners housed at Charleston Correctional Facility have the opportunity to

Justification:

The Maine Correctional Center was established to improve public safety by decreasing the recidivism of both male and female prisoners by providing opportunities for correctional rehabilitation within a supervised and secure setting, while assuring the safety of the public, the staff, and the prisoners. While striving to complete this mission, the Maine Correctional Center recognizes the indispensable and valuable contributions of its security, program, and support staff and is committed to the ongoing development of a professional and skilled work force. The Maine Correctional Center is the primary reception center for the DOC. Prisoners with sentences of five (5) years or less, and all female prisoners, enter the department through the Maine Correctional Center. At the completion of the intake and orientation process, prisoners may be placed in a unit at Maine Correctional Center or transferred to another facility. Programs for prisoners confined at the Maine Correctional Center focus on teaching appropriate conduct, personal responsibility, and work skills. The center has specialized programs to assist prisoners re-entering the community. Prisoners work various jobs within the institution which include kitchen, laundry, grounds maintenance and landscaping. Public restitution crews work in the community under the supervision of correctional trades instructors completing public service projects. Industry programs in upholstery, wood construction and garments provide basic work skills. Education programs include General Educational Development (GED) preparation and testing. Vocational training offers graphic arts and computer repair. Medical, mental health and psychiatry services are available to all prisoners through a contract with Correctional Medical Services (CMS). Prisoners are assigned to a unit team which monitors prisoner adjustment to case management and transition/release planning. The substance abuse programs for both men and women are provided through a partnership with the State Office of Substance Abuse. The Women's Center is designed as a secure correctional community with focus on personal development, trauma recovery, substance abuse treatment and community re-entry. Through these programs the Maine Correctional Center strives toward its mission to improve community safety by teaching personal responsibility, involving prisoners in rehabilitation programs and lowering recidivism.

Justification:

The Downeast Correctional Facility was established by the Legislature in September 1984 for the confinement and rehabilitation of persons who have been duly sentenced and committed to the Department of Corrections. Funds were appropriated to purchase and renovate the former Bucks Harbor Air Force Station into a fully operational medium security correctional facility. The facility is a medium/minimum security institution with an average prisoner population of 143 to 150. Programs offered at Downeast Correctional Facility consist of educational, industry, treatment, and community restitution. The educational programs offered at Downeast Correctional Facility are academic and vocational based. The academic programs are geared toward high school equivalency (GED), and courses emphasizing everyday life skills. A NovaNet system allows prisoners to enroll in courses ranging from grade school level up to and including college level via a closed circuit of the Intranet. The vocational programs offer training in the following career fields: upholstery, welding, automotive repair/restoration and building trades. Each career field is staffed with an instructor who oversees the program and its participants. In July 2001 a garment industry program was initiated at Downeast Correctional Facility wherein denim jeans and jackets are manufactured by the facility's prisoners. The jeans and jackets manufactured at Downeast Correctional Facility furnish the entire Maine Department of Corrections adult prisoner population. The treatment programs offered at Downeast Correctional Facility focus primarily on mental health issues and substance abuse. These programs are directed and monitored by the facility's medical, caseworker, and psychological support staff. The community restitution program at Downeast Correctional Facility provides assistance to other state agencies, local municipalities and non-profit organizations. With the support of the community restitution program agencies are able to use fewer financial resources maintaining their facilities thereby providing them more resources to pursue their organizational goals. Some restitution work is performed within the confines of the correctional facility while a select group of prisoners work in the community under constant security supervision.

Justification:

The Juvenile Justice Advisory Group (JJAG) was created in response to the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act (JJDP) of 1974, as amended (the Act). The Act creates a voluntary partnership between states and the federal government for the purpose of improving the administration of juvenile justice. In return for an annual formula grant, based on the state's juvenile population, each state undertakes to meet four congressionally defined standards ("Core" requirements) for the management of juvenile offenders. These core requirements relate to: 1) the handling of status offenders; 2) the separation of juvenile from adult prisoners; 3) the detention of juveniles in places other than adult jails; and 4) the protection of minority youth from discrimination in the juvenile justice system. Maine has participated in the Act since its inception. The JJAG operates as the supervisory board for all planning, administrative and funding functions under the Act. The JJAG was first established as a committee of the Maine Criminal Justice Planning and Assistance Agency. It was formalized by Executive Order 4FY80 on October 5, 1979, and authorized by statute in 1984 (34-A M.R.S.A., section 1209). Since July 1, 1982, the Department of Corrections (DOC) has acted as the JJAG's administrative and fiscal agent. The federal allocation for Maine Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Program for federal fiscal year 2010 is $600,000. Up to 10% of the award is available for planning and program administration, determined by need and available state matching funds and $30,000 is allocated for the activities of the JJAG. The remainder of the formula grant is allocated to a variety of programs to support improvement of the juvenile justice system. In accordance with their three-year plan, JJAG will support prevention and early intervention programs designed to keep at-risk youth out of the juvenile justice system, development of a comprehensive strategy to address delinquency among Native American youth and monitoring of and technical assistance for jails to maintain compliance with the Federal JJDP Act. The JJAG further supports community prevention efforts with the pass-through of federal funds from the Title V Local Delinquency Prevention Program. The FY2010 allocation of $48,360 will be distributed by a competitive process with eligibility restricted to general units of local government. The general fund is the match requirement for the administration of the formula grant. The Juvenile Accountability Block Grant is administered by the JJAG. The Juvenile Accountability Block Grants (JABG) program is administered by the State Relations and Assistance Division of the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP), Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice. Through the JABG program, funds are provided as block grants to states for programs promoting greater accountability in the juvenile justice system. Maine supports community-based diversion programs, with the award.

Justification:

The Juvenile Community Corrections was established to provide effective supervision to youth under its jurisdiction who are residing in the community. Using a risk reduction case management model, staff assess risk domains and strengths presented by juveniles, develop case plans, access and advocate for appropriate resources to implement case plans, collaborate with other State agencies and public and private providers to ensure that appropriate interventions are provided, and monitor progress of the case plan. This approach targets dynamic risk factors that lead to continued criminal behavior, provides and directs appropriate interventions that will mitigate those risk factors, which ultimately assists the juvenile to remain crime free. Concurrently, the Juvenile Community Corrections Officers (JCCO) will divert youth from the correctional system, supervise those on probation or aftercare status, and manage those youth detained or incarcerated to protect public safety. Juvenile Community Corrections is also responsible for the administration of the Interstate Compact for Juveniles. Three regional offices provide services to juveniles across the state. A Regional Correctional Administrator, who reports directly to the Associate Commissioner for Juvenile Services, administers each region. JCCOs accept referrals from law enforcement officers and supervise and case manage juvenile offenders in the community. Regional Supervisors provide case management consultation and direct supervision to JCCOs and assist them to find appropriate resources for juveniles on their caseloads. Two Contract Managers assure that all contracted services are provided in a manner consistent with the assessed needs of juvenile offenders. Outcome performance measures are incorporated into all contracts to ensure program effectiveness. Support staff assists in the overall management of the regional offices. Regional offices receive referrals from law enforcement officers for detention decisions or to screen for possible diversion. The JCCOs, based on specified criteria, determine whether juveniles should be detained pending a court hearing. They also decide whether a youth can be safely diverted from the correctional system. In the latter case youth are dealt with informally through a contract specifying conditions to which the youth and his/her family agree to comply in lieu of going to court. Using an evidence-based risk management and risk focused intervention approach the JCCO's supervise and case manage youth placed on probation or on aftercare from one of the juvenile facilities. JCCOs also serve as the primary case managers for juveniles committed or detained at juvenile correctional facilities.

Justification:

The Long Creek Youth Development Center was established to rehabilitate clients committed to the Center as juvenile offenders so that they eventually return to the community as more responsible, productive, law-abiding citizens. The Center is responsible for the rehabilitation of juvenile offenders committed by Maine courts, applying the disciplines of education, casework, group work, psychology, psychiatry, medicine, nursing, vocational training, and religion, as they relate to human relations and personality development. Boys and girls between the ages of eleven and eighteen may be committed to the Center for the term of their minority, or, in some cases, until their 21st birthdays. The Superintendent acts as a guardian to all children committed and may place any such child on aftercare with any suitable person or persons or public or private child care agency. The Long Creek Youth Development Center is also, required, by law, to detain juveniles pending their court appearances. Long Creek Youth Development Center functions as the correctional facility for the juveniles from the southern part of the state. The purpose of the center is to provide for the detention, diagnostic evaluation and confinement of juvenile offenders. In addition, the center promotes public safety by ensuring that juvenile offenders are provided with education, treatment, and other services that teach skills and competencies; strengthen pro-social behaviors and require accountability to victims and communities.

Justification:

The Mountain View Youth Development Center in Charleston was established to provide juvenile correctional services for the ten Northern/Central counties of Aroostook, Franklin, Hancock, Kennebec, Knox, Penobscot, Piscataquis, Somerset, Waldo and Washington. Formerly known as The Northern Maine Juvenile Detention Facility, the programs, services and physical plant were expanded and reorganized into the current Mountain View Youth Development Center in 2002. The Center provides services to both short term detention population as well as longer term committed youth. Detention services include short term secure detention, pending court disposition of youth accused of committing juvenile crimes and is placement for juveniles sentenced to brief periods of incarceration of less than 30 days, known as "Shock Sentences" or periods of less than seven days as a "Drug Court Sanction". Residents sentenced to indeterminate periods of confinement or committed to the Department of Corrections are served by facility. The Mountain View Youth Development achieved national accreditation from the American Correctional Association in May 2006. The facility offers numerous programs and services to provide all residents the opportunity to change inappropriate behaviors, attitudes and beliefs into those that are socially acceptable. These services focus on providing the youth with attainable skills and competencies that are effective and demonstrable. The primary method of achieving these changes is cognitive/behaviorally based and individualized to meet the specific needs of all youth and reduce targeted high risk behaviors. A full array of mental health and substance abuse services, which include evaluation, diagnostics, appropriate counseling and therapy are available through licensed practitioners using individual and group processes. Other services provided include volunteer and religious services, leisure recreation and full medical and dental. The facility provides all educational services including special education programs within the guidelines of the "Maine Learning Results" in a unique alternative experiential approach through the facility's approved school. The educational programs encourage individual success for residents to become life long learners. Available services range from GED preparation to college entry and college classes. In August of 2007, the facility was recognized by the Council for Juvenile Correctional Administrators (CJCA) and the Performance-based Standards Learning Institute (PbS Li) as one of the top three facilities

Justification:

The State Parole Board was established to evaluate and adjudicate applications for parole as well as to provide oversight and management of offenders already admitted to parole. The two primary responsibilities of the Board are to determine the eligibility for access to parole or to sanction parolee's when warranted due to rule violations. The Board also determines the time of discharge of parolees from parole supervision, formulates policies, adopts regulations and establishes procedures. The State Parole Board hears cases at the Maine State Prison for those offenders who were sentenced prior to May 1976 (the abolition date for parole in Maine) to determine if or when inmates should be released on parole. If parolees have been accused of violating the terms of their parole the Board sits as an adjudicatory body to determine if a violation has occurred and if they find that a violation has in fact occurred they impose sanctions as they see fit

The stream gage network provides timely flood warnings, as well as essential data for road and bridge construction, fisheries management, waste water regulation, agriculture, forest fire control, water utilities and many other water resource-dependent programs. The State provides input to the operation of the network through the River Flow Advisory Commission. All of the funds appropriated by the Legislature are applied to this contract. There are no State personal services or other administrative costs associated with the operation of this program; administration is absorbed by the Administration, Maine Emergency Management Agency program.
